For today's travelers, hotels and resorts are destinations in themselves. From the moment guests are greeted they want to feel special and welcome. Guests become accustomed to the level of luxury and service professionalism that you offer, and they look forward to that pleasant sense of familiarity on their next stay.

You've gone to great lengths to design a hotel with décor and details that create an ambience to compliment your brand. Imagine being able to create a truly lasting impression, one that remains vivid, long after the stay is over.

Create a truly powerful connection with your guests

Your environment and brand can be enhanced through scent. With your own signature scent, you will create a truly powerful connection with your guests that is individual and unique.

Audio Marketing Concepts offers solutions for small lobbies and meeting rooms with the iScent to larger common areas with integration through the ventilation system. iScent and iScent 2 are perfect for hotels. It's also possible to control scenting in every room in a hotel all from the front desk. This solution uses the principles of wireless technology in conjunction with a network of scent diffusers to control multiple scent zones remotely.

Fragrance fact

The human sense of smell plays an important role in memory. Scent receptors in the nose connect directly to the section of the brain responsible for memory and emotions.
